Comments From The Sale Consultant...

Welcome to the 18th Hokie Harvest Sale. Harvest time is a time to reap what we sow and a time to share the harvest with friends, family and the community.

The Hokie Harvest Sale continues that tradition of sharing the wealth of superior genetics. All the graduates in this offering have been hand-picked for quality and value. Many of these have been very difficult to part with as they are young and show great promise for the future.

It has been a great pleasure working with the VT staff and students of the 2012 Livestock Merchandising Class. They are bright, energetic and will soon be reaping the benefits of an education at one the country’s leading Ag Schools.

We hope to see you in Blacksburg on the 26th. If you need any assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Best Regards,
Ken Brubaker
August 27, 2012

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the 2012 Livestock Merchandising Class and the Department of Animal and Poultry Sciences, we welcome you to the 18th Annual Hokie Harvest Sale on Friday, October 26, 2012. As many of you know, previous Hokie Harvest Sales have developed a significant reputation for selling high quality, university-owned livestock. This year’s offering features strictly purebred and commercial beef cattle and again showcases our students in an experiential learning environment. The Hokie Harvest is more than just a cattle sale; it’s a fun-filled day with good food, impressive cattle, and great fellowship! Don’t miss out on this opportunity to witness our future industry leaders in action.

This production sale is unique to the Commonwealth of Virginia because it has been organized and managed by 95 Virginia Tech students who are currently enrolled in Dr. Eversole’s Livestock Merchandising class, APSC 3764 and AT 0294. Both the two- and four-year students have gained “hands-on” experience in sale management, budgeting, advertising, cataloging, clerking, and livestock photography. Students have worked extremely hard in the planning and preparation of our production sale, which includes 50 head of registered and commercial beef cattle.

We are once again offering you a great selection of beef cattle with an opportunity to choose from several different bloodlines. Breeders of purebred Angus, Hereford, and Simmental cattle will be able to select AI-sired progeny from a cross-section of the VT Beef Cattle herd. Some of our very best females and bulls have been hand-picked stemming from elite donors that combine curve-bending EPDs, predictable genetics, and acceptable phenotype. Mature cows with proven production records and promising herd sires from predictable cow families will be sold. All the spring-born calves will sell separately from their dams. A strong set of commercial heifers and cows will also be offered. Cowbuyer LLC will again provide online bidding if you are unable to attend but you must register at www.cowbuyer.com at least one hour before the sale.

The Department takes great pride in our university, our livestock, and especially our students. We encourage you to ‘Come and Experience the Harvest’ on October 26th and get to know this great group of future industry leaders. Funds generated from the Hokie Harvest will continue to provide funding critical to the survival of departmental programs in Animal and Poultry Sciences. If we may be of assistance in any way, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

Dan Eversole, Director
Beef Cattle Programs

HERD HEALTH:
All pregnant females were given a pre-breeding vaccine which consisted of a modified-live virus IBR-PI3, BVD, BRSV, and a 5-way Lepto bacterin. ANNOUNCEMENTS:
Announcements from the auction block will take precedence over printed material in this sale book. Virginia Tech reserves the right to withdraw any sale lot from the sale that does not meet their specifications prior to the sale.

EPDs represented in this sale book were current at the time requested for the printing of this sale book. EPDs are recalculated throughout the year by the respective breed associations, which mean the figures represented in this book may change for these animals in the future.

Dear Friends and Supporters,

It is our pride and pleasure as the 2012 Livestock Merchandising Class of Virginia Tech to present to you the 18th Annual Hokie Harvest Sale Catalog. As we uphold the precedent set by previous classes of quality and tradition, we request your presence when we hold the 2012 Hokie Harvest Sale on Friday, October 26 in Blacksburg, Virginia. The sale will begin at 6:30 PM in the Animal Judging Pavilion.

Now in its 18th year, this auction continues to be a joint effort of all of the students in the Livestock Merchandising Class. Willing professionals have served as guest speakers during class time and have educated us on sale preparation and administration as we plan and organize the sale. Organizing the Hokie Harvest Sale teaches our class valuable skills such as management of a production sale while still providing high quality livestock to the public. This year’s auction will include approximately 50 head of both commercial and purebred beef cattle. All proceeds from the sale directly benefit the Beef Cattle Programs at Virginia Tech.

We appreciate your invaluable support and invite you to attend a complimentary barbeque dinner served prior to sale time. “Come Experience the Harvest” with us at the 18th Annual Hokie Harvest Sale!

Thank you,

Catalog and Mailings Committee
