Programs in agriculture and natural resources, 4-H youth development, family and consumer sciences, and resource development. University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture and county governments cooperating. UT Extension provides equal opportunities in programs and employment.

This year's conference will address topics of interest to both stocker and cow-calf producers. The conference will be a one-day event and will include educational sessions covering such topics as stocker receiving health, using EPDs and genomically enhanced EPDs in today's decision making, beef cattle outlook, price risk management tools and uses, upgrading existing working facilities, and mineral supplementation. Once again, we will have virtual tours of operations from each of the three states and then will have a time of questions and answers with the producers themselves. This year's conference will be one that should add dollars to your bottom line whether you run a stocker or a cow-calf operation.
